CONCEPT

The Organic Market is designed as an open and accessible space inspired by the atmosphere of traditional street markets. There is no solid entrance wall; instead, customers directly enter the interior after climbing the exterior stairs, creating a seamless transition from outside to inside. This open entrance enhances the sense of flow and invites users into the marketplace naturally.

CONCEPT

The ceiling of the market is shaped by an organic leaf-like form, symbolizing nature and purity. This form is supported and emphasized with linear wooden slats, adding warmth, rhythm, and texture to the interior. The entire ceiling is covered with glass, allowing abundant natural daylight to fill the space throughout the day. This transparent structure not only reduces the need for artificial lighting but also strengthens the connection between the interior environment and nature.
